SPRING 2024

A Look Ahead at Your Energy Costs

We are pleased to share positive news about your electric energy bill. Natural gas prices, a fuel we use to produce some of the electricity you use, have declined and we are able to pass that savings on to our customers through lower energy rates that took effect April 1.

We are excited to let you know that these lower energy costs are forecast to continue decreasing through 2024 and into 2025. Average customer bills are projected to decrease significantly by the end of 2024 compared to the end of 2023.

We also want to remind you to prepare for the upcoming hot summer months. When the days heat up and your air conditioner comes on, the increased energy usage is the biggest factor that causes higher energy bills in the summer. Conserving energy where you can is a great way to reduce your monthly energy costs. More information on how you can manage your energy usage leading into the summer months is available at nvenergy.com/powershift.
