PowerHouse TIP of the MONTH

Show your pet some energy-efficient love

Everyone deserves a little extra love this month, including your furry family members. Keep them comfy and show you care the energy-efficient way.

- ▶ Create a warm, insulated environment. Seal drafts to keep pets cozy without turning up the heat. They might like a nice blanket too.
- ▶ Use an LED night-light if your pet likes a gentle glow in the dark to provide comfort without using much energy.
- ▶ Leave out toys to keep them active and naturally warm.

Beyond February, Alliant Energy Foundation honors Black history in Wisconsin

Time and again Vel Phillips made history in Wisconsin. She was the first Black member of the Milwaukee Common Council, Wisconsin's first Black woman judge and Wisconsin's first Black woman secretary of state. Her work focused largely on civil rights and fair housing and her positive impact was felt in the communities Alliant Energy serves. That's why the Alliant Energy Foundation proudly helped support the creation of a sculpture – the first of a Black woman on capitol grounds in the nation – honoring Vel Phillips on the Capital Square in Madison.
